

Today I Can

Let's not forget what we can do this day:

Today I Can...

Draw on the power of honesty. I embrace change and redefine myself. Word by word, deed by deed—I strive to reflect the truth.

Today I Can...

Put down my old habits. Selfishness and hardness give way to an instinct for service. Gratitude now is my rule.

Today I Can...

Appreciate the richness of life by welcoming, sharing and laughing with another addict. Turning Godward, I find progress and peace.

Today I Can...

Take in a new reality—that in this struggle I am not alone. Many have walked this path before, and I have fellows at my side.

Today...Together...We Can Live in Hope!

CMA Conference Approved Literature

©2013 Crystal Meth Anonymous

www.crystalmeth.org

CMA Helpline - (855) 638-4373

4.17.2013